BHS
From 8am to 2pm over a thousand students fill the halls of BHS. Classes range from Points of View to Body and Mind!

"I always look forward to going back to school so I can play field hockey in the fall." Lauren Kesnner

"I look forward to going back to school each year to see smiling faces and new renovations." Mr. Nardin

Dr. Bob
Dr. Weintraub ". . . of the birch and rule, the mast of the district school . . ." JGW
Dr. Bob and Lynda Horblit greet each other in the beginning of the day.

BEGINNINGS

For a hundred and eighty days each year, over 1800 students and faculty members fill the halls and classrooms in Brookline High School. It was a big adjustment, with Dr. Bob as the new headmaster, all those new blue doors, the new freshman coming up, and the old seniors gone. Seeing Dr. Bob dancing to UB40 and talking about Beavis and Butthead at our first assembly started off the year well (h-h-huhhuh-huh).

The start of a new school year is always an exciting time, although not as much as weekends, vacations, snow days, Fridays at 2:15, and the end of finals. But having the start of a new school year ahead of you to prove yourself to friends, teachers, coaches, and family is important to all.

Dr. Bob dancing to UB40's "Can't Help Falling in Love."

Excitement and anxiety was felt throughout the halls as students looked for new classes, took the wrong lunches, and searched for old and new friends. Anxiety was also felt by the guidance counselors because of the limited time for passing out the schedules.

This year the students received their schedules on the first day of school instead of during the summer, causing over crowded guidance offices of screaming students and guidance counselors singing the blues. Once all the first day things were straightened, students began to feel the pressure of doing school work and not having enough time in the day. Gosh, its a wonder why any-one would want to return after such an exhausting first day.

Packing off to School
Students lug their backpacks into school. This year the trendy color is navy blue (could it be one of our school colors too)?

Scheduling Problems
With the loss of Roberts House and receiving our schedules on the first day made guidance counselors busy. Dr. Sutfin consults with Monica Zelada while Angela Burke waits.

Football Practice
This is the way Dave Friedberg keeps himself in shape for his famous tackles on the field.

Yourself

6. . . . wear comfortable clothes. This is a test, not a fashion show. Aim for the layered look. Wear something light, but bring a sweater . . .
7. Be careful not to make any stray marks on your answer sheet. This test is graded by a machine, and a machine cannot tell the difference between an accidental mark and a filled in answer . . .
8. . . . Use your rest break to clear your thoughts. Do breathing exercise, or close your eyes and imagine yourself sun bathing . . . loosen up and get the kinks out, this will ease your body and help the oxygen get to your brain.

Traffic Jam
Bicycling is a main form of transportation for the students and faculty.

"The school should have a parking lot because it is an inconvenience." Alina Vaisman

"Walking to school is cool when you do it with a friend." Coleen Maclean

School Bus
The Brookline Soccer team hangs outside of their bus before their awaited game. Many of the sports teams are "bused" back and forth from practice and games.

MOVING ALONG

Bike, bus, skateboard, rollerblades, foot, train, horseback, taxi, planes, pogo sticks, unicycles, motorcycles, horse and buggy, camel, scooters, pick-up, 18-wheelers, and of course, cars, are all of the types of transportation which bring us here to Brookline High School, in pursuit of the American Dream . . . and parking spaces.

Neither those steep hills, crazy morning drivers, nor a light morning drizzle keeps our bikers from pedaling their way to school. Armed with their backpacks and helmets, students and teachers battle through the wild rush of traffic to arrive to school on time. "Biking is better for the legs and it keeps some money in my pocket."

Driving is by far the most popular and desirable means of transportation. Who wouldn't want to drive to school in complete comfort on those cold frigid winter days? "One of the best things about driving is that I get to sleep a little bit later than usual, however I do have to get to school early enough to get a parking space."

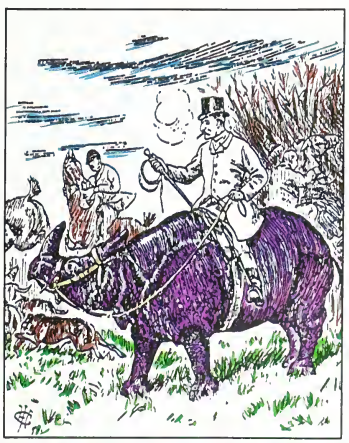
The packed trolley is another popular means of transportaion for those trying to get to A block on time. What could be better than waiting in the cold for the trolley to come and then having to search to find a seat to sit down in once it arrives? However, it is better than walking to school in the rain or cold air (and getting detention for being late to A block.)

Though 8:05 AM is a difficult time for students to face each morning, and a reluctant few may even feel sick at the sight of the school's flag pole and clock, everyone arrives, and they do it in style.

Car Keys
Sara Miller flashes us a smile as she speeds by, hands off the steering wheel; eyes off the road. (What a PLEASANT DRIVER!)

Breaking The Rules
Jay Chung defies the laws of the little red handbook (everyone should know this because they signed the handbook.)

Roller Blading
A good way to get to class on time if you're not caught in the halls of the school.



Hacking Away
Chris Bradley and Palmer Thompson-Moss practice their hacking skills one on one in the quad.

"I think that clogs and bell bottoms will soon go out like all the trends go in and out." Jenny Ng

"Trends are trends, they always come and go." Julie Sherman

Styles
Everyone at Brookline High has their own unique sense of style. Everyone expresses themselves in different ways. These girls have found their own unique style.

WHAT'S IN AND WHAT'S NOT??

Read this quickly, otherwise most of these statements will be outdated. Trends: the most unreliable, everchanging, "in" things. Whatever you wear, listen to, or do in your own time, if popular, it's "trendy."

These days we've got a relaxed style of clothing ranging from flannels, flight jackets, bell bottoms, baggy pants, or anything else that fits. Look down and you will see Docs, Birks, Boots, Cons, (and for summer comfort) Tevas. On the other hand, don't look down too closely or you are likely to get kicked in the face by a hacker.

Rings are also growing in popularity as are places to put them in multiples along the ears, nose, nipple, and any where else a hole can be made.

"Trends the most unreliable, everchanging, "in things."

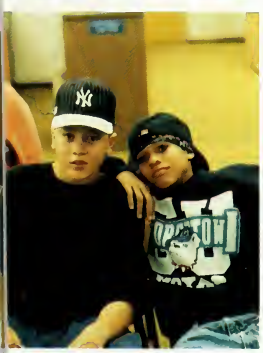
TV is a main source of developing trends. People are sucked to the TV to watch Seinfeld, Beavis and Butthead, and 90210. Even Dr. Bob's inaugural statement "Don't be like Beavis and Butthead," makes their nagging laughter ringthroughout the halls.

From the visual to the audio, music, once "alternative" bands like Pearl Jam, REM, and Cypress Hill are now at the top of the charts, as are Naughty by Nature, U2, and Janet Jackson.

Exclamations like phat, hype, cool, and more are as dated as groovey, swell and keen!! Watch what you say.

In any case, stay comfortable, but don't be surprised to see your favorite styles at a yard sale in a couple of months. Then again, all this will probably come back into style in about twenty years anyway.

Plaid, Plaid, Plaid
JV and Varsity field hockey players are trés chic in their plaid skirts (you know they joined the team just to get a skirt!).

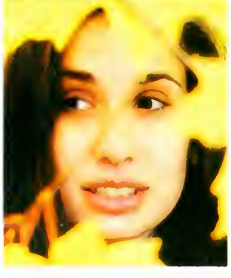


Strolling Along
Are they wearing the same hats??? Could this be a new up coming trend that we don't know about yet?

Hats Off!
These two guys show off their sense of style by expressing themselves with hats. Whether it be forward or backward, everyone knows hats are the "in" thing.

A Nice Day In The Quad
A group of Brookline High students find a nice comfortable place to chill in the quad. The quad is used for essentially relaxing from the stress of the day.

"The best place to be is in New Hampshire, but I will settle for the quad." Miriam



"When the sun shines on the steps in the quad it makes for a relaxing day." Daisy

Lunch Time
These students find time to have a couple of laughs during their lunch.

HANGING OUT

What better way to find the diversity of Brookline High's people than seeing where they hang out.

Throughout four years at high school, students find themselves constantly seeking new and exciting people, places and things. Freshman year, or at least for the first couple of months, many spend lunch periods and general free time in the often barren, often odorous room called the cafeteria. Choices are sometimes limited to at which of the linoleum tables with built-in seats one will sit. But the inner upperclassman struggles to come out, and the freshman is no longer a slave to his reservations.

One fine fall/winter morning, the freshman will make his way into the quadrangle, a new experience. Eating lunch outside? Unheard of! First, they pull recess away, then shove it back. Going into the quad, offers a whole new range of choices. Should I sit on the steps or a bench made of stone? Do I prefer sun or shade? Will that kid beat me up if I move his jacket? Anyway, the napless freshman as many before him, will make it through, as many a student will after him.

> "I took the liberty of open campus before it was legal for me."

Admittedly many take the liberty of open campus before they are legal. Village Fare is a place to spend lunch time for the younger set but true lunch-time pleasures await when one discovers what happens when one turns right onto Cypress Street: Sealey's Columbo, a virtual smorgasbord of choices everyday!

Now, I'm a senior. This means that I've learned the ropes pretty well, and with a little manipulation of my schedule, I can pretty much go where I want. But, keep in mind, no mater who you are, there's a place for you. Hey, there could even be more than one place! High school, especially at Brookline High, is a fun time. Don't take it too seriously, and be glad you're lucky enough to have any place to hang out at all!

— by Jon Helfgot

SWS Lounging
Rachel Redlener and her friends find the SWS lounge an enjoyable place to chat.

Fast Food
Sealey's is definitely a great place to have lunch, although it takes a long time to cook the gourmet food.

Eddie's Truck
Most everyone would agree that Eddie's is the best place ot go for a good slice of pizza or some delicious ice cream.

Horsing Around
Good friends, Nate Spunt and Wyley Brown horse around during lunch.

"Honest, forgiving, and easy going, are the best qualities of a true friend." Nai Hui Shon

"Freshman orientation day was good. I got a chance to look for my friends and make some new ones." Marie Burrage

Happy Together
Jen Cestaro and Davis Thompson — Moss are all smiles as they discuss the day's plans.

FRIENDSHIPS

They are sympathetic, honest, and fun to be with. Who are they? They are our friends and they play a major role in our lives. It certainly would not be the same without one. Who shares your inner most secrets and desires? Who knows the inside joke or the latest scoop? High school just wouldn't be high school without that reliable friend or two or three or hey, what about the whole gang?

It can be safely said that at one point or another during life, everyone has had a close friend; someone who is always around when needed. Even when you're in the worst mood, a friend can put a smile on your face. However, lots of people can make you laugh, its the quality of trust that makes a really good friend. From what we look like in the morning to how we line our shoes up at night, a best friend knows all our little quirks.

"Everyone says BHS is full of cliques."

Girls and guys sometimes don't see eye to eye, but on this topic most agree that freindships are really important. Whether going out as a group or on a date, talking about your night life is a common subject between friends. Often, its just the time spent together, whether people-watching at the mall, shopping in general, going to school functions, or just hanging around, doing it with a friend makes it special.

Everyone says BHS is full of cliques, but I think there's another way to look at the phenomena. To me, a clique is a closed set or group where people are locked into membership, while others are locked out. At Brookline High, the groups are not exclusive. There are plenty of students who move from one group of friends to another. I think that students feel free to choose to hang out with whomever they please. The great part is having lots of interesting and different people to get to know. It's the development of these friendships and the memories they create which will follow students when they graduate and go their separate ways.

What you do for friends.
Angela Shamsi and Negaar Sagafi are always there to lean on each other.

Say Cheese!
Steven Masters, Adam Doyle and Anna Landratis are laughing it up.

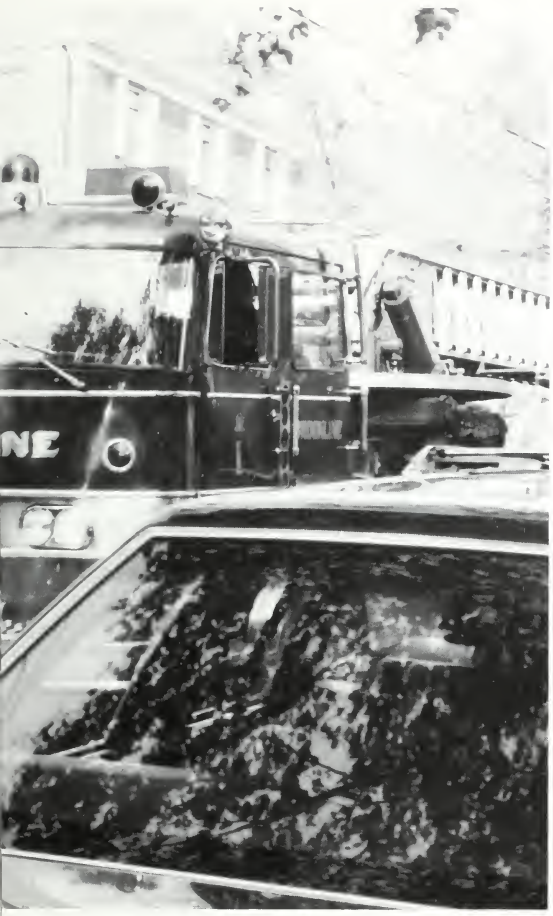
FIRE!

Many times this year students have been disturbed during their classes by the blaring sirens and flashing lights of the fire alarms. Usually these fire alarms were "fake" alarms that only lasted about five minutes. However, on Tuesday, November 2, a sprinkler poured gallons and gallons of water uncontrollably on- to the third floor near Welland Street. This resulted in flooding the third floor along with muddy water leaking down to the second floor.

"Blaring sirens and flashing lights . . . "

It was said that someone managed to damage one of the sprinkler heads. One teacher said, that she had heard a sharp sounding noise behind her, and she turned around and nobody was there except for the water pouring out of the broken sprinkler. So, who broke the sprinkler? An investigation of this case, with few clues to go on, was conducted. Since that time, two more alarms have been pulled. And the saga continues . . .

Social Time?
Many kids use fire drills as a social time to talk with friends. Whether it be the latest school gossip or a time for making plans, you will find the students chatting away.



iends . . .

Fire At B.H.S.?
Do the firemen ever leave the fire station thinking Oh No, FIRE at Brookline High, QUICK!!! Well, one fireman said that he didn't understand why the kids kept pulling the alarms?! Just for fun???

Best Buddies!
Sharon Moore and Jen Twomey spend some time together during a recent fire alarm. If it doesn't save you from a test, at least you get to see your buds.

Its Cold . . .
As many students stand out on the streets you hear a few common words, "It is so cold out I want to go back in." I guess there are some negative aspects to having alarms.

Sibling Rivalry

Brookline High is a very diverse school, perhaps the most diverse in New England. However, we share something that makes us like every other school: Students who go to school with their siblings.

Consider what school would be like without your brother or sister. You would probably think 'What a relief!' Now seriously, think a little harder. If you didn't go to school with your brother or sister, whom would you pick on? Who would you look up or down to? Who would annoy you as only a sibling can? Who could you copy old work from, and who would be there if you really needed them? I now you're thinking 'friends will be there', but you never know just how long your friends will be around. With siblings there is no choice: You have each other for life. We asked some students from Brookline High to share with us some of the pros and cons in going to school with their sibling.

If you look closely you'll see that for every pro there is a con, but hey — going to school with your brother or sister will always have its ups and downs!

Pros

"I could always bum money from them."

"I could ask which classes to take."

Cons

"I have a twin and people always get us mixed up."

"I saw my sister 24-7."

"I was really glad to have my sister here to show me around my freshman year."

"I had a glance at the stress college applications were."

"I was known as so and so's little sister."

"When my brother and I didn't get along, I had trouble keeping up.

"My sister introduced me to all her friends, which was pretty cool."

"They are always there for me when I need someone."

"My brother always embarrassed me in front of his friends."

"I had to live up to the image made by my brother."

ALL ABOUT BRAIN FOOD

What time of day is everyone's favorite time? You guessed it, lunch time! It is the one time during the day where students actually have a half hour to do almost anything they please. Some of us sit around the cafe eating our lunches, using the time to restore our brains so we can continue our busy day. Others of us eat in the quad, but for those of us allowed to leave school grounds, and even those who aren't allowed but do, can enjoy the settings of the other places around Brookline. Obviously, where you go will depend on what you are in the mood for. With choices like Village Fare Pizza, Columbo's ice cream and mini mart, Sealy's restaurant, Eddie's pull up food truck or everyone's all time favorite,(for those with transportation) Mickey D's, you should have no trouble feeding your brain and satisfying your appetite.

What to do?
"With only a half hour, there wasn't much to do for lunch. Basically it was an opportunity to clean out my locker, visit with my friends or maybe even attempt to do some last minute studying."

Surprise!
We caught these two girls off guard while they were eating their lunch and sharing secrets.

Brown Paper Bag:
These Freshman students learned to cope with staying on campus by bringing their own lunches and adopting an area in the quad to eat.

Lunch:
No lunch for these two. They decided to pass on lunch until later and use their lunch period for full time socializing.

Chilling in the Cafe:
These students chill in the cafe during their lunch time, many play games instead of eating.

Thoughts from the class of '94

"If I could do high school over again, I would spend more time with my friends."
" . . . go to class."
" . . . change my name so it wasn't Sara Miller."
" . . . have played more sports."
" . . . Don't want to change it."
" . . . try to get more out of it, use time better, participate."
" . . . skip some study halls, pull a fire drill (everybody else did)."
" . . . have gone to class."
" . . . have run through the quad in my underwear."
" . . . go on more field trips."
" . . . drink less Akva."

Who would be the most likely to . . . ?
"Dr. Weintraub would be the most likely to go bungee-jumping."
"Steve Lantos would be the most likely to blow up BHS" . . . "set a student on fire."
"Mr. Reynolds would be the most likely to start a gossip column."
"Mrs. Lombardi would be the most likely to write a dictionary of her personal words."
"Mr. Kestenbaum would be the most likely to photograph a pet wedding."
"Mr. Cohen would be the most likely to become a stand-up comedian."
"Mr. G would be the most likely to fly."
"Mr. Butchart would be the most likely to pass as a student."
" . . . have a song written about him.

"BHS has given me hives and bee-stings."
" . . . an opportunity to meet a wide variety of people."
" . . . the chance to realize what true friends are."
" . . . four years of everything."
" . . . bake sales, confidence, homework, turmoil, struggle, success, the quad, the caf."
" . . . fundamental and advanced knowledge to survive life."
" . . . a lot to learn from."
" . . . the confidence in me to move into the real world . . . "
" . . . homework."
" . . . a lot of standardized tests."
" . . . a chance to express myself."
" . . . paper cuts."

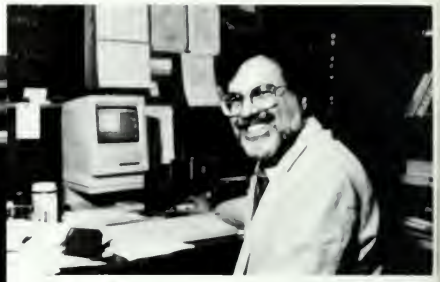
INFORMED!?

"Dr. Bob"

So, is this how you isolate yourself?



No wonder I wear glasses, I've been in front of the screen too long

Dr. Robert Weintrub, Headmaster

"I am very proud of Brookline High. We are beautifully diverse, yet unified by the common aspiration of every young man and woman to be successful and to feel an integral part of our school community. We are a model for the rest of the world. We are serious; we are compassionate; and we are fun-loving."
Robert J. Weintrub

Gee, I don't know!

Do I really have to tackle that big fella?

Nice tie, huh?

Mr. Waldron sings his BHS inspired song "Scheduling Blues".

Scheduling Blues

Students at my windows, students at my door students in my office, lying on the floor.

I sit down at my console, I've got a heavy load.
I go to do a schedule, I cannot find my code.

I hit my printout button, got to have a schedule fast.
The student's looking mighty sick, I do not think he'll last.

I've got a splitting headache, I'm about to lose my mind,
Charlie wants the schedules, says we're running out of time.

Linda's in my ear, asks me can I take a call.
I'm battling with a parent and my back's against the wall.

I'm telling a new students, saying Brookline can't be beat.
I go to put in courses, but I cannot find a seat.

Mark and Lillie Davis are praying that they'll last.
The kids are jumping up and down, they want their schedules fast.

Oh Mr. Waldron, I must have A block free, cause getting here by 8:05 is just too hard on me.

And G block classes I can't take cause after lunch I'm beat.
So move that class and do be quick, I have to find a seat.

I must change my teacher, this really cannot work.
My sister had her years ago and says that she's a jerk.

I'm hungry and I'm tired, I'm about to go insane.
I'm just too slow for Brookline, I should have stayed in Maine.

I jump up from my console, I cannot take no more.
I go to leave my office, Carol Daynard's at my door.

It's after four, I'm tired, I want to head for home.
Been burning up the keyboard working my fingers to the bone.

I get my car, I drive Route 9, I crawl into my home.
I tell my greyhound Roger, "get my therapist on the phone."

The summer's gone, it's back to work, it's time to pay my dues.
Scheduling kids at Brookline High has given me the blues.

We must say this season was a tough one. Competition practices were the worst; there was probably more crying ıan laughing. By the end of competition we were all thankful that it was over. Even though we didn't place in competition was all forgotten when our football team beat our rivals the NEWTON NORTH TIGERS.

Being Seniors it is hard to say good-bye, but we will always remember this last season the most. We have lots of ɔnd memories.

— Thanks to our Coaches Lynda & Jen for putting up with us.

— We want to wish the football team the best of luck next year and to the Cheerleaders.

"Let's kick some butt at competition!!!"

Love Always (Your Captains),
Maureen and Ira

CONGRATULATIONS!
On B-ing Bay State Division Champs!

We danced and boogied until that yellow bus shook.
With our purple boom box and plaid skirts we made everyone look.
We were quite an emotional team; we laughed and we cried
With a new winning record, new positions, and Barboza as our guide.
We were bound together by snappies and of course the tree.
We froze our buns off for spirit, and we did it with glee.
Our new friends from Scotland, playing under the lights and more,
And regardless of our slippery pavilion practices, we learned how to score.
We encouraged each other from the sidelines yelling, "you go girl," and, "be the ball."
But we couldn't have done it without Sara's mom's and Erin's dad's cheering and all.
We did everything together including getting hurt.
But we were fearless, tougher than the football players when we hit the dirt.
We sang along to "That's What Friends Are For," and screamed when Jen said FLIP.
We held our own with maniac #12 and still had enough energy to shake our hips.
Our new sticks showed us that, "the thicker the shaft . . . the harder the drive."
We went to the pep rally with painted faces to let people know we were alive.
We worked hard to get to the tournament for ourselves and the school.
And our new league banner will make the boys drool.
Good Luck Next Year!

The season went well this year, almost eve ryone improved. We had half the team swim a sectionals, and two individual swimmers fro last season. Overall we have been improvin each year with an almost perfect record thi past season. We had four new divers, eac one performing above the expectations themselves and the rest of the team. This yea was "the hardest one yet," but next seaso will be "easy as one, two, three," when w win the league.

Good luck next year,

This was not the typical Brookline basketball season. Youth and inexperience squashed our efforts to extend our streak of making t to the state tournament for 6 years. This was a team short on continuity and experience, but big on talent and heart. For the first ime, two sophomores started along with a junior and two seniors. We had trouble playing as a team, and it showed in our record. But what our record didn't show was the resilience and heart that the 93-94 squad played with. For the seniors, playing basketball s quite a big physical and mental sacrifice and to be a senior on a team rebuilding a fallen program where the payoff is success down the road, is a sacrifice not demanded, but volunteered. The few seniors that endured the season from the bench showed as nuch character as anyone who played consistently. We showed our potential when we "smoked" a good club from New Jersey by 22 points. The Newton North game was a testimony to a team that never gave up. We lost on a last second prayer, but no one gave ıp and we left our hearts on the floor. In the last game, we did all coach Tucker could've asked us to: We played hard and gave he fans a good game. Lastly I'd like to thank Mr. Cradle, Coach Tucker, and the other coaches for sticking by through everything. On behalf of the other players, we may have not had the best team, but we certainly had the best coaching. Good luck in '95.

Congratulations to the Girls Gymnastics Victory for the Newton North meet!

This year we had a great season. We encouraged each other and worked hard as a team. One highlight was our delayed victory over Newton North. But we also had fun outside of the gym. What other team could have such a great time watching Grease and laugh so hard when watching other meets frame by frame? And don't forget our "quirky" signs . . . "FREE SOUP!"

"We wish you luck" (clap, clap) next year and we leave you with the following thoughts:

— Always bring a spare leotard. You never know what might spill.
— Do not store mats in subzero temperatures. They tend to get hard.
— Do not try flying off the highbar. It won't work. You don't have wings.
— If you concentrate hard enough, you too can make a heater sound like a radio.
— And most importantly, when Angels wink, wink back.

We've had a great four years and we will always remember this season (The year before the spring floor. What timing.)

We'll miss you.
Love
Melissa, Kendra, and Marta
P.S. When we come back next year we expect all of you to be wearing your birds.

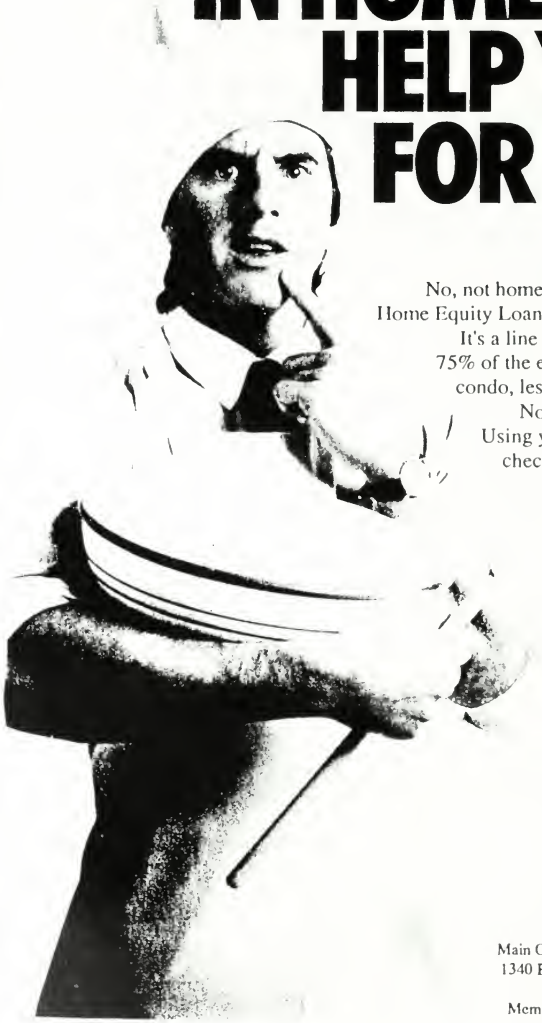
HOW A COURSE IN HOME EC CAN HELP YOU PAY FOR COLLEGE.



No, not home economics. Brookline Savings Bank's Home Equity Loan.

It's a line of credit that lets you borrow as much as 75% of the equity in your owner-occupied house or condo, less the first mortgage.

Now it's easy to meet those big college bills. Using your line of credit is as simple as writing a check. And, it may be tax deductible.

Because a Home Equity Loan is secured by the equity in your home, the rate is only $1\frac{1}{2}$ points above the prime rate published in the Wall Street Journal.

Take a quick course in home equity at any Brookline Savings branch today. Our customer service reps have all the facts. And all qualified home-owners are sure to pass.

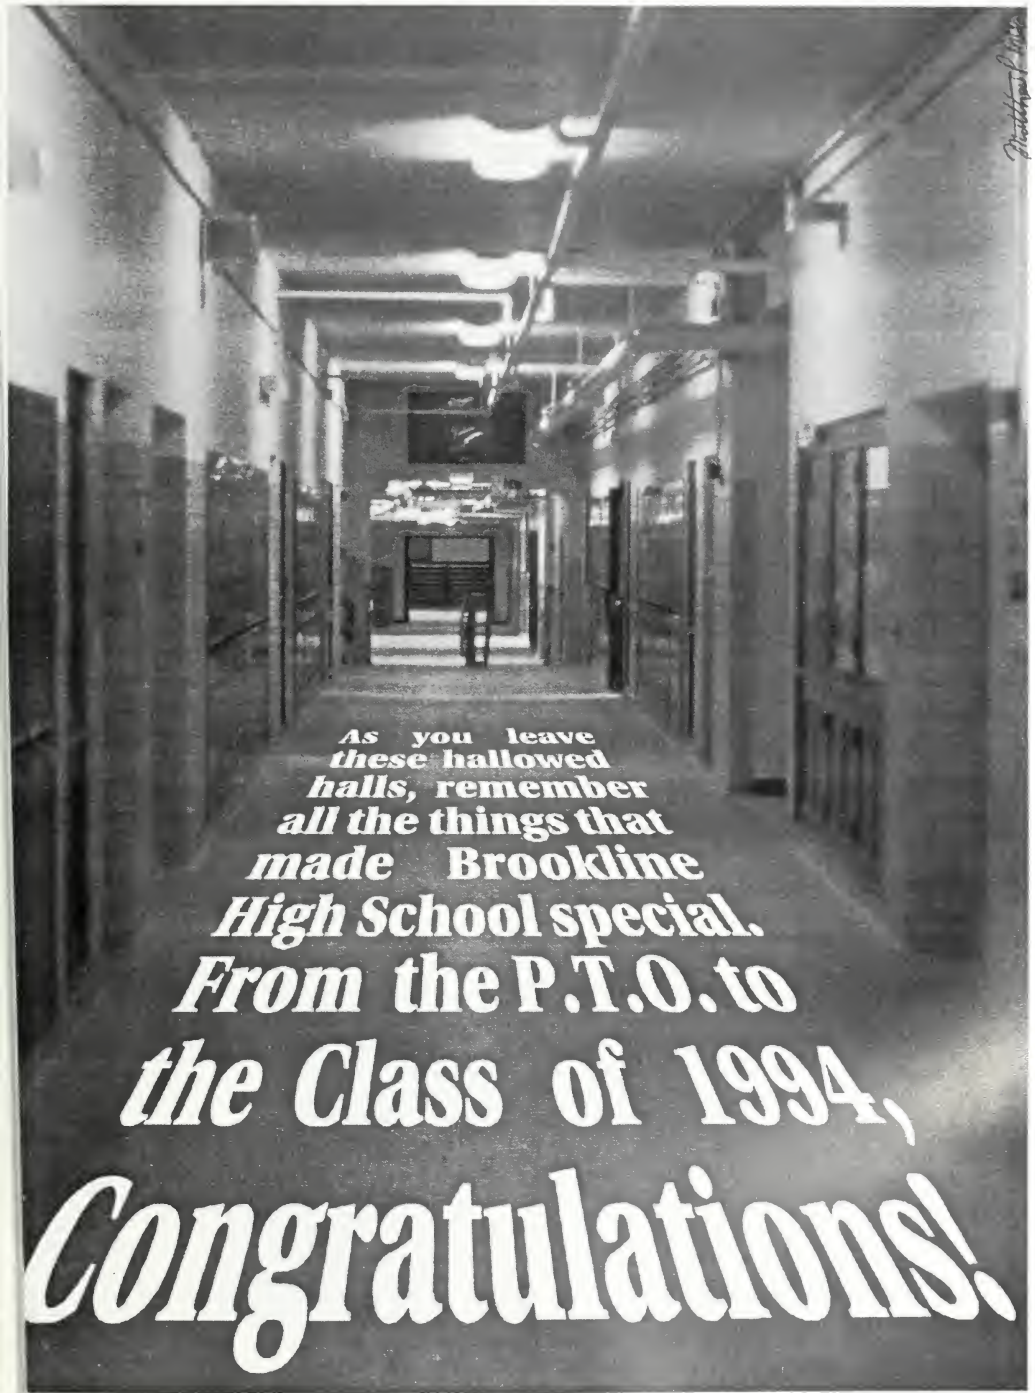
Brookline High School Class of 1959

My days at Brookline High were very special. It is there that I made lifelong friends, learned the meaning of perseverance and furthered a passion for sports. But perhaps the most significant lesson I learned from my teachers and coaches at Brookline High was that, despite the success you may achieve over the years, your most important assets will always be stressing family values, honesty and integrity.

I wish you all health and prosperity in your very bright futures.



As you leave
